Arlington's "zip gun" boy who was charged with the possession of firearms in Cambridge District Court last week will enter the Navy today.

The Arlington teen-ager, was nabbed by Arlington police last week and charged with having possession of the so-called "zip gun". He was taken to Cambridge District Court and was out on bail, his case continued without finding.

The youngster had previously enlisted in the U. S. Navy and had passed his physical tests.

According to Police Chief Albert Ryan he is to be sworn in today, February 6.

S. & T Hearing

A hearing relative to the suit of the Arlington police and firemen concerning pay raises has been set up for the afternoon of February 24.

The case came up in court Monday at which time the Judge set the date for the hearing.

The question of pay raises has been pending for almost a year since a requested pay hike for the Town's "men in blue" was defeated by the controversial majority vote rule at town meeting.

Abutters Cost From Main Line Set At $4.75 Per Foot

The Board of Selectmen will take under consideration the possibility of the Boston Edison Company removing its existing overhead lines used for the transmission of electricity and placing them underground according to an agreement between the Company and the Town, along Mass. avenue from Highland avenue to School street.

Only two of the thirty abutters in the area where the changeover would take place were present at a hearing Monday night at 8 p.m. in the Board's office. After due discussion on the matter both voted in favor of the underground.

According to Edison Company officials present at the hearing the Company will install the underground cable to a point two feet within the property line of the abutter.

Those living along Mass. avenue in the section involved would then have to pay for the cable to be brought from the property line to the house plus any cost for a meter board. Cost per foot from the main line to the house would be $4.75.

The $100,000 project, part of a long-range plan would, it was brought out at the meeting, provide a more reliable type of service and tend to beautify Mass. avenue.

Could Pay By Instalment

If the Board approves the plan, abutters will have a thirty day "waiting period" to appeal to the DPU. When the "thirty days" is up a field survey will be made. Officials of the Edison Company present estimated that actual work on the project could begin in the late spring or early summer.

Customers will be given ample time to hook into the main line

(30 days) according to Edison officials.

Each abutter will be contacted and notified as to how much it will cost and where the best point of entry will be.

Selectman Joseph Greeley asked what would happen if an abutter didn't have the money to make the changeover possible.

The Edison officials answered that some sort of an installment plan could be arranged, if necessary.

Selectman Franklin Hurd stated that he felt the Edison Company should bring the cable to the meter board instead of just two feet inside the property line.

The Telephone Company representative present at the hearing stated that in most cases the telephone line would be laid in the same trench as the one housing the Edison line.

A ditch or trench between 2 1/2 to 3 feet deep and about 16 inches wide is deemed necessary.

At the present time Arlington's Mass. avenue has underground cable from Franklin street to the general vicinity of the Highland avenue-School street section. Another section runs from Appleton street to the Heights.

Attorney General Fingold Candidate For Governor

Attorney General George Fingold this week announced he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor in 1958.

In declaring his candidacy for the office of chief executive of the Commonwealth, the first three-term Republican Attorney General in the State's recent history declared it imperative that the direction of the state government be returned to a Republican administration responsive to the will of all the people.

"A Republican victory in 1958 is mandatory if Massachusetts is to meet successfully the challenges of an ever-changing world and cope with the vexing problems that must of necessity be resolved," Mr. Fingold stated.

"Sheer logic dictates that the Republican Party nominate a candidate who has demonstrated the vote-getting capacity to win the governorship and is equipped by training and experience to be a bold, forceful and imaginative administrator," the Attorney General said.

"Our Commonwealth desperately needs a chief executive who will grasp the reins of government and lead Massachusetts to its proper position of economic security and social advancement," Mr. Fingold added.

"Massachusetts can no longer afford experiments in government. Reduction of taxes must be the primary consideration. The industrial climate of our Commonwealth must be improved if we are to preserve our economy. Attraction of stable industry which produces jobs and wages can only be attained by a sincere aim to assist business."

Won Confidence

The 49-year-old attorney and administrator has won the confidence of the electorate in three successive victories at the polls and has gained widespread recognition as the executive head of one of the State's most important and sensitive departments.

"As Attorney General in my sixth year in office," Mr. Fingold said, "I have had the opportunity to gain an intimate knowledge of the workings and operations of the state government as well as a deep insight into the needs of the Commonwealth and its citizenry."

"By the very nature of my job as the chief law officer of the state, I have had intimate contact with every branch of the state government. I have come to know the responsibilities of our county and local officials and to understand the scope and significance of their problems. I am not only the administrative head of the Department of the Attorney General, but in the course of my duties have provided legal counsel to every department and agency of the state, including the judiciary."

"The entire scope of the administrative process of the Commonwealth falls within the purview of the Attorney General. Since I have been the state's first full-time Attorney General, I have given all my energies toward gaining a thorough and comprehensive knowledge of governmental duties and responsibilities."

"I offer in my candidacy for governor a training in the law and a background in government vital to the sound and proper administration of government," the Attorney General stated.

Citing the case for party responsibility under the "cherished two-party system," Mr. Fingold said that as the sole Republican holding constitutional office, "I have devoted my efforts towards maintaining in the operation of our government the highest standard and principles of my party."

Scores Furcolo

"For the past year," said the Attorney General, "our state has been virtually leaderless in that the man elected to the governorship has proven a vacillating, inept and thoroughly bewildered office-holder confronted with problems he cannot comprehend, much less solve."

"From my position in the state government just down the hall from the Department of the Chief Executive," Mr. Fingold related, "I have sorrowfully observed the patent inadequacy of the man who is now our Governor."

"From time to time I have pointed out these inadequacies and the woeful damage they have done our state and its citizens. In the coming election I shall bring to the people, with all the vigor and knowledge at my command, an account of a Democratic administration which has miserably failed all the voters who placed their confidence in a man ill-equipped to handle his job."

"I shall also present with equal candor the proposals I intend to offer for the promotion of our economy, for the relief of our tax-burdened people and for the general welfare of our state and its communities," Mr. Fingold concluded.

Father Nowland Guest Speaker

The Immaculate Conception Parent-Teacher Association will hold its Communion Supper February 12 at 8 p.m. in the Parish School. The speaker of the evening will be Reverend Edward H. Nowlan, S.J. Father Nowlan holds the Doctorate in Sacred Theology from Weston College and the Doctor of Philosophy degree from Harvard University. Formerly he was professor of Emmanuel College, Boston, Weston College and Holy Cross College, Worcester. ## Women Voters Discuss Educational Issues

Educational issues of considerable community interest will be aired by the League of Women of Voters next week and the results of a survey related to current educational needs will be made known.

According to Mrs. John Kossak, chairman of the League's Education Committee, the survey was begun by the League in September 1957 to determine many things that might shed light on educational needs today. "Since the process of education and the methods by which we learn are constantly changing and growing, there is always considerable controversy as to how much should be administered at a given time and a given place. The answers are not always easy to determine nor are they easy to accomplish."

Under the direction of Mrs. Kossak, the Education Committee sent questionnaires to towns in the greater Boston area and also to some nearby cities. Information was sought regarding the length of the school day, the extent of planned extracurricular activities and the gifted child. The questionnaires were filled out and returned and the results correlated. These will be discussed at three meetings next week.

A general meeting to which all interested townspeople are invited will be held Tuesday evening, February 11, at 7:45 p.m. in the Junior Library Hall. It will be a forum type of meeting with open discussion between audience and panel after the survey is presented. The panel will consist of members of the Education Committee and includes: Mrs. David Mahn, Mrs. Ben Cole, Mrs. Lee Burchstead, Mrs. Lester Klein and Mrs. Kossak.

Two units will be held, one on Tuesday, February 11, at 9:45 a.m. at the home of Mrs. George T.

Tickets for the Father and Son Dinner scheduled for February 24 are about half gone and parents are urged to purchase them immediately so that their son will not be disappointed.

Movies are back on the program again this Friday, February 7 at 7 p.m. The feature film is "The Man from Oklahoma—a thrilling western story."

Charles Cremens Heads Heart Fund Drive

The 1958 Heart Fund in Arlington will be headed by Charles H. Cremens, 64 Mt. Vernon street, it was announced today by Atty. Samuel P. Sears of Boston, state chairman.

The month-long campaign, to be held through February here and across the state and nation, will be highlighted on February 23 by Heart Sunday, when thousands of Heart Neighbors will visit their areas to accept contributions.

Mr. Cremens, a Director of Health and Safety Education in the Cambridge Public Schools, is active in local civic and community affairs.

"We are fortunate in our choice of this community's general chairman," said Sears, "for the Massachusetts Heart Association's campaign is one of importance to every home here. Heart and circulatory diseases constitute our most serious health problem; more than 22,000 lives were lost to them in Massachusetts' last recorded year. This represents more than all other causes combined."

"The Heart Fund represents not only hope, but hopes fulfilled," Sears said. "Advances made in our Massachusetts medical centers, as well as in others throughout the country, have saved many, many lives and restored literally thousands of persons to health. Today, researchers are developing even more techniques and gaining even more understanding of this tremendously complex subject."

"When we give to the Heart Fund, we are giving to any one segment of our population. We are giving to ourselves. Heart diseases begin, sometimes, at birth and assail the rich and poor, the outdoor worker and the executive alike at any stage of life."

"Massachusetts is a state of enlightened giving—of careful consideration and of support for those organizations which are truly worthy of support. I look forward to the most successful campaign in our history. Never has the need been greater."

The names of other local Heart Fund leaders will be announced soon.

Cars Collide

A Billerica resident was held for observation at Symmes Hospital early Tuesday morning and an Arlington woman, a passenger in a second car, was reportedly shaken up in a two-car mishap in front of 455 Mystic street.

Taken to Symmes was John J. Powers, 15 Charne street, Billerica operator of one car, while reportedly shaken up was Ruth Critz, 412 Mystic street, passenger in a car operated by Ethel Blackwood, 15 Orchard terrace, Arlington.

Among those receiving Red Cross certificates for completion of a comprehensive first aid course was Thomas F. Burns, 20 Jean rd., Arlington. Burns is one of 584 Department of Public Works employees to complete such a course.

Critz, 412 Mystic street. Mrs. Critz will act as discussion leader. Mrs. Peter Bertocci, 243 Park avenue will be hostess to the unit meeting held on Thursday evening February 13, at 7:45 p.m. Mrs. George Blackwood will be discussion leader.

Hearing On Open Meetings February 10

A public hearing will be held at 10:30 a.m., February 10, at the State House, before the committee on state administration, on the so-called "open meeting" bill which has been filed by Senators John Powers and Silvio Conte.

Rev. Richard D. McCue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. McCue of 1230 Massachusetts avenue, Arlington, was ordained to the Sacred Ministry by Archbishop Cushing today morning, February 3, at 10 o'clock. Father McCue was one of 63 who were ordained in the impressive ceremonies which took place in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston.

On Sunday, February 9, the newly ordained will offer his First Solemn High Mass at 12 noon in the Church of St. James the Greater, Arlington Heights. Father McCue will be assisted by Rev. George S. Brennan, Pastor of St. James, who will act as Archpriest; Rev. Frederic M. Cameron, St. Cecilia's, Ashland, Deacon; Rev. Thomas F. Keane, St. Anthony's, Allston, Sub-deacon; Rev. George Emerson, St. Andrew's, Forest Hills, Master of Ceremonies. The women will be delivered by Rev. John D. Callahan, S.T.D., Dean of Discipline at St. John's Seminary. Music will be by St. James Senior Choir under the direction of Mrs. Frederick J. Manning, organist.

Father McCue was born in Somerville and studied at St. Clement's grammar and high school, graduating with honors in 1946. In September of that year he entered Boston College where he earned his Bachelor of Arts degree.

During his undergraduate studies he participated in the Marine Officers Training Program and was commissioned in the United States Marines in June of 1950. As Lieutenant in the First Marine Corps he saw 18 months of action in Korea. Upon his return to the United States, Father McCue was assigned as instructor in the Marine Training Program of at Quantico. He received an honorable discharge from the Marines in 1952.

In September of 1953 Father McCue began his theological studies at Saint John's Seminary, Brighton. While at St. John's, he served for three years as student infirmarian, was a member of the nationally famous St. John's Choir, president of the National Rural Life Committee, and last year was appointed Student Prefect of St. William's Hall.

Under the lend-lease program of Archbishop Cushing, the newly ordained Father McCue has been elected to serve in the Diocese of Raleigh, North Carolina. ## Brackett 64 Arlington 57

A big first period by Brackett paved the way for Arlington high school's fourth consecutive basketball defeat at the Junior High West Tuesday night.

Arlington outscored the visitors 46-44 over the final three periods but could not make up the nine point edge Brackett picked up in outscoring the locals 20-11 in the first stanza.

Mapp of the Brackett club threw in thirty points, almost half of his team's total points to pace the attack.

Freeman tossed in 18 for Arlington and Gilpatrick pumped 12 points through the hoops.

To The Editor

To the Editor:

At this crucial time in the history of our schools it is important that we elect to our School Committee individuals (1) who have the maturity and vision to make wise decisions and (2) who are dedicated to making our public schools just as good as they possibly can be. For these reasons I am sincerely and wholeheartedly urging the election of Charles W. Blackmon to the Arlington School Committee.

During the weeks before the coming election I believe that every citizen of Arlington should become fully acquainted with the experience of each candidate so that he may cast his vote intelligently and thoughtfully rather than on the basis of whim or incomplete information. There are at least three questions, it seems to me, that citizens should ask themselves about each candidate:

1) Is he a mature person who has the experience needed to weigh alternatives thoughtfully before reaching decisions and setting policy? Has his work or profession provided him with the necessary background to enable him to perform the duties of the job wisely? Here Charles Blackmon rates at the top. His years of experience in business in an executive capacity have given him maturity of judgment. In his present position as Gadget Officer at the MIT Lincoln Laboratory he must get the facts before reaching decisions concerning planning and programming. Charles Blackmon knows how to ask the right questions.

2) Does he have a personal or other axe to grind? The answer for Charles Blackmon is "absolutely none" except the good of the schools! As the father of four children, three of whom are at present enrolled in Arlington schools, he quite naturally—like other good citizens—wants to see that Arlington's schools are of the best. He knows that a community is rated by the quality of its public schools, and he realizes that in this time of crisis in competition with alien ideologies the future of America may rest on the quality and the program of our schools. As a result, he is prepared to support the School Department in forward-looking proposals for the betterment of our children's education.

Charles Blackmon decided to run for the School Committee not for personal or political advantage, but because he was urged to do so by a large number of citizens (me included) who know that a public-spirited, capable person he is. I should like to cite just one example to illustrate his spirit of unselfishness. In 1956 no one seemed willing to undertake the job of running the Red Feather campaign in Arlington. (Ordinarily a Chairman is selected in the spring or early summer so that plans can be made for the fall campaign). In late September, still without a Chairman, the committee approached Charles Blackmon. He accepted the responsibility even though the task looked hopeless and he knew that because of the late date he could not possibly make a showing to compare with that of the previous year. But he knew the job needed to be done. And after much hard work the results were amazingly successful. Charles Blackmon put the good of Arlington above personal advantage or convenience.

3) What is his record of civic activity? Charles Blackmon's enviable record of service to the Town rates with the very best. Check the list of organizations to which he has devoted himself and the positions he has held in them. In addition to serving as General Chairman of the Community Chest. He is also Chairman of the Improvement League of Arlington and has served as officer and board member of the PTA and Boy Scouts, as well as director or committee chairman of many other groups. Here again I should like to call attention to the fact that in these community activities

Charles Blackmon has served in a position of responsibility which has given him experience in weighing facts, making decisions, and forming policies.

Maturity, experience in decision-making, devotion to the public schools and civic good—these are the qualities needed in members of our School Committee. It is my sincere belief that if the citizens of Arlington will compare his record of service and responsibility, they will want to cast one of their three votes for Charles Blackmon at the election on March 3.

Respectfully yours,
Norris H. Hoyt

LOCALS HAND MELROSE PUCKSTERS INITIAL LOSS IN PLAYOFF TILT

Arlington high school's hockey team handed league-leading Melrose its first defeat of the season in the opening game of the G.B.I. playoff Friday night at the Boston Arena.

In the second game of the first division of the playoffs, Newton high school threw a road block in the path of the Loop's dark horse entry from Cambridge Latin by pulling the game from the fire 3-2 in the closing seconds.

Melrose now leads the first division with 13 points, Newton and Cambridge Latin are deadlocked in second place with 10 points while Arlington has now climbed to within a point of second place with nine points.

In the second division, Medford and Belmont held top spot with eight points as Medford beat Rindge Tech 6-0 in one contest and Belmont edged Stoneham 3-2 in another game.

Arlington, a loser to the Red Raiders in the final game of the regular season by a 2-0 score, came back Friday night to win by the same margin.

Junior goalie Tom Apprille was brilliant in the nets for the locals turning aside no less than 20 shots off the sticks of the League leaders.

Johnny Wilson scored first for Arlington, picking up a loose puck at mid-ice and going in all alone on Melrose goalie Glenn Crosby.

Billy Collins put Arlington out front by two in the second stanza when he beat Crosby from six feet out.

Newton scored twice early and then had to score in the last 16 seconds to break a 2-2 tie.

Jim Leonard's 20 footer in the closing seconds provided the difference in the final outcome.

Six Clubs Battle For Leads In Heights Loop

The Celtics held undisputed possession of first place in the Eastern Division of the Heights Basketball League, while three clubs were battling for the top spot in the Western Division in games completed through last week.

The Celts, paced by Leo Scully, Bill Icton, and Bill Wright hold a half game edge over the Knickerbockers and the Nationals, while the Lakers, the Hawks, and the Royals are deadlocked in the Western loop.

The Warriors, residing in last place in the Eastern loop, are expected to show some improvement with the acquisition of Ed. McWilliams to go along with Bob Poirier and Jerry Carbone.

In the Western Division the race is even closer than is the case in the Eastern loop. The Hawks jumped off to an early lead, but the recent fast pace of the Lakers and the Royals has enabled these two clubs to close the gap of late.

Twelve players from each of the divisions will meet in an all-star contest at the Junior High West, February 24.

Boy's Club Members Hit Jack Pot At Sportsmen's Show

Five years of devoted interest in teaching the fundamentals of bait casting to the members of the Arlington Boys' Club paid off for Thurman Chandler, at the New England Bait Casting Tournament, held at the Sportsmen Show during the past week-end.

Twelve of Mr. Chandler's proteges were entered in the competition along with 25 representatives from Farmington, Maine, where, bait casting is taught in the school systems, plus many entries from all over New England. Seven Arlington Boys' Club boys qualified in Saturday's qualifying round and the results of the finals which were held Sunday are as follows: Teen-Age Bait Casting, 1st place—Allan Howard, 2nd—Chris Lewis and 3rd—James Langley, all members of Mr. Chandler's Boys' Club team. Novice Bait Casting—2nd place—Ted Latty and 3rd—Billy Green also representatives of the Arlington Boys' Club.

Out of a possible nine Bait Casting Trophies, members of the Boys' Club proudly brought five of them back to the clubhouse. Certainly, this is a great tribute to the man who has volunteered untold hours of instruction to these boys in order that they might learn a sport that is fast becoming very popular.

Boys who were also entered but did not qualify were: Stuart Belden, last years Teen-Age Champion, Tim Mahoney who placed 4th in the Expert Class, and Novices—Bobby Schumaker, Bobby McGaughey, Bryce and Fred Perry and Francis Morry.

Mr. Chandler acted as a judge during the competition and parents of the boys and Club Director, Brud Faulkner were there to cheer them on.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

By Herb Mason
Owner of Mason's Shoes
Arlington Center

Does it pay to have children's shoes repaired?

Yes. In spite of the fact that the writer of this column is constantly warning against the danger of allowing children to wear outgrown shoes there are many periods in a child's young lifetime when foot growth is very slow. If feet continued to grow as rapidly as they do in infancy there would be only two feet to a yard.

A nice practice that is developing among shoe-minded parents is that of bringing the worn shoes to the shoefitter for a size check before taking them to the shoe repair.

In an effort such as Foot-saving Education it is consoling to the shoefitter to be reminded occasionally that parents regard his service rather than just an insidious way of extracting their hard earned money.

Within The Town Limits

By Walt Moynihan

Article 74 of the Town Warrant scheduled for March was well down in the list of the 81 articles to be voted on, and possibly is not as well known to the public as those relative to pay raises and relocation of streets, but it has some interesting possibilities.

The article itself concerns a request to re-establish precinct lines in the community.

According to Chapter 43-A of the General Laws, the Arlington Board of Selectmen will review the precinct lines once every five years during the month of December and at that time determine whether any lines need be changed in whole or in part.

However, the Board may also be called upon to review lines other than once every five years by Town Meeting vote during the first December following Town Meeting. Such Town Meeting must be held prior to November 20 however.

Instrumental in getting this article before the Town Meeting was Attorney John Stanton. Stanton wanted the article inserted because he feels that representation of Town Meeting members is now out of proportion to what it should be. He feels that new residents have moved into some precincts and that some precincts lack the population they did a few years back.

Going outside the limits for a word or two — a two bank lead headline in the January 23 issue of the Billerica News told the story of how Theodore Thomson, representing a recently created Middlesex Turnpike Association was starting a movement to do something about the road which has become known through the years as "roller coaster" road.

Thomson was scheduled to meet with Selectmen in Burlington and Bedford to present his plans to those two officials bodies. According to the news story, the newly organized association hopes to wage a campaign to have the County Commissioners relocate the road with the use of Chapter 90 funds. Within the last few months an Arlington and a Somerville resident have met death on this section of roadway.

Yes—it's still early, but "Limits" is going out on a limb and pick winners in the March 3 election. Here they are: For Selectmen, two men will be elected to three year terms; for Assessor, one man will be elected to a three year term; for School Committee, three candidates will be elected to three year terms; and for Housing Authority, one man will be elected to a five year term in office.

Solid selections - We can't miss. Seriously though we will go out on the proverbial limb sometime between now and election time and pick the "winners".

Anyone for hurdles — for those who formerly used the railroad property between the Center station and Russell terrace as a short cut between Massachusetts avenue and Russell terrace—an obstacle.

Recently, the Boston and Maine constructed a fence extended across the entire entrance of this area. The area has been used for some time as a parking lot and as a passage way for pedestrians.

However, impatience has already been shown by someone who attempted to saw a section of the top bar of the fence.

Not quite a year ago, although it doesn't seem that long, the night of February 11, the Arlington Board of Selectmen by unanimous vote passed a motion to open future meetings to the public. The first such meeting was held in the hearing room of the Town Hall, February 18 with 25 persons in attendance.

Maybe something will start here corner—Arlington's swimming facilities were called "very inadequate" at a meeting of the Arlington branch of the American Red Cross held recently. The meeting was held to discuss a water safety program in the community.

And speaking of swimming — several Arlington teenagers — all attending the Junior High West, have banded together to get up a swimming team. Its mostly in the formal stages, but the boys are apparently serious enough to travel to neighboring communities to get their swimming practice.

Some interesting figures appear in the folder entitled "Pupil Personnel", the annual survey put out by the Arlington high school Guidance Department.

Concerning the Class of 1957, which was graduated last June, we find the following:

The number of graduates employed when the survey was made last fall by percentage was 36.4 per cent; this is the lowest percentage since 1945 and represents a drop of 10.2 per cent since 1950, the peak year since the survey was inaugurated in 1944.

The percentage of those furthering their education was 54.7, an increase over last year and the third highest percentage since the survey began.

And finally, the number of those entering the armed forces took a sharp jump in 1957, 2.2 per cent in one year. The 1957 percentage figures representing those graduates who went into the armed forces is 7.3 per cent, the highest since 1946, but still a far cry from the 15.5 per cent of that year.

The Board of Directors of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce met this week at the Monument Diner and although no formal vote was taken those present tentatively voted to go along with the grocery stores in the community as far as opening hours are concerned on Washington's birthday. It is expected that a more definite decision will be reached this week.

The Arlington Board of Selectmen now have ten days from February 3 in which to make a decision on the hearing relative to the installation of underground wiring which was held on that date. Their decision then goes to the Town Clerk.

The registration of new voters in the town up until early this week at the special night time sessions which have been held in various parts of town during the latter part of January and early this month has been unusually low. Only 26 persons registered at the six locations where sessions were held on the first three nights.

Must be a reason!

When it was there, the complaints were prevalent for a place to skate, now that it is there, the complaints come in that is there. We are talking about the new MDC skating rink on Route 2.

Selectmen Hurd and Rawson stated at the Monday night meeting of the Board that they had received calls complaining of the cost to get into the rink, of Kelwyn Manor being used as a parking area, of sections of Lake street and other streets being used for parking, of calls of the noise emanating from the rink; some even complained of the lights from the rink.

Offer 'Conquest in Burma' At First Baptist Church

Special to the NEWS

"Conquest in Burma," an exciting play about Adoniram and Ann Hazeltine Judson, first American Missionaries to the Orient, will be presented by the Drama Trio of the University of Redlands, California, at the Arlington First Baptist Church on Sunday, February 9, at 7:30 p.m.

Albert Johnson, author of many popular plays, tells in this one about an adventuresome youth who, shocked into reality by the death of a friend, turns his life toward danger and a next-to-impossible goal, taking with him as bride, the pretty and witty Ann Hazeltine who became the famous Ann of Ava, one of the great women of Burma.

Says Ann in the prologue, "Conquest in Burma is a ballad of conquest, a hymn of faith, a song of love." Tragedy and comedy are here blended. Ann is played by June Bowdoin of Anchorage, Alaska, Adoniram by Phil Robb of Maryville, Missouri, and the narrative by Barry Baumgarten of Van Nuys, California. The latter also plays such diverse roles as Dr. William Carey, British Commissioner Crawford, and a Buddhist priest.

Bertha French Johnson, wife of the author, is the director. Albert and Bertha Johnson head a distinctive drama program at the University of Redlands.

Everyone in Arlington who appreciates the best in live drama is welcome to come to see "Conquest in Burma."

Auxiliary Firefighters Second Line Of Defense

Gone are the bright red shirts, the horse-drawn steamers spouting smoke, the brass voice trumpet. The black raincoat, the covered fire trucks the two way radios have taken their place. But the spirit of the old time fire "buff" is bright in Arlington.

The Arlington Civil Defense Firefighters' Auxiliary, a strong, well-trained group of men train every night with the men of the regular department. This training was started in war years by auxiliary chief, Harold Knight under chief, Dan Tierney. It was decided at that time that a well-trained fireman was an asset to his community, but a poorly trained fireman was a danger to himself and his fellow workers.

The training program has evolved into one of regular assignments. The auxiliary fire chief is Malcolm Griffin, Deputy Chief, J. Fred McGinn; there have been two district chiefs, Dave Shute and the late George Cronin. The men are divided into five squads of six men each, each squad headed by Captains John Ackers, Edward Rose, Malcolm Teel, Henry Ottoson, and Ralph Knobel. The company clerk, Ralph Kinney is one of the members long in service.

Well-Trained Reserve

Each night in the week a group of five squads each comprised of six men report to the Central Fire Station for assignment. If needed, the men are sent to either the Park or Highland stations. During the evening the men take training under Captain Proctor the fire department coordinator, and respond with the regular department.

Close cooperation between the men of the regular department and the auxiliary fire-fighters has resulted in a well-trained fire reserve in Arlington.

The auxiliary is a volunteer Civil Defense organization. The men are unpaid for their services, but during their actual training they are insured against personal injury under Civil Defense law. Equipment for training and firefighting has been purchased by Lt. Philip A. Sweeney under the Civil Defense Act.

Chief Thomas Egan has praised the auxiliary department several times for their spirit and their devotion to a hobby that results in service to the community. Town Manager Edward G. Monahan has spoken of the loyalty of this group and the protection that Arlington receives from having reserve strength in this emergency group.

Arlington's Auxiliary Firefighters are recognized and are known throughout New England for the able performance of their duties.

Williams Presents Casting Rod To Boy's Club Member

An Arlington boy received one of Ted Williams' prize bait casting rods at the Sportsmen's Show last weekend.

It happened this way: Francis Morey, nine years old, made two very attractive ashtrays during the Arlington Boys' Club ceramic classes. He presented one to "Ted" and the Red Sox slugger was very much impressed, he so informed Pat Harty, Boston Globe fish and game editor of the kind gesture.

Williams then reciprocated and gave young Francis one of his bait casting rods.

Needless to say, the boy was thrilled beyond words. Francis presented the other ashtray to Bud Hill, the man who originated these Bait Casting Tournaments, and who has worked devotedly for several years to make them successful. Mr. Hill was equally impressed and most thankful.

Ralph R. Hudson, president of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce received a letter from J. P. W. Finn, Postmaster expressing thanks to the Chamber for the letter which praised the Christmas decorations at the Heights Post Office.

Ralph R. Hudson, President Arlington Chamber of Commerce 432 Mass. Avenue Arlington 74, Mass.

Dear Mr. Hudson: Thank you very much for your letter dated January 15, 1958, regarding the manner in which the Arlington Heights Branch of this Office was decorated during the Christmas Season.

As you indicated, all of the expense for these decorations was borne by the employees of the Arlington Heights Branch, as we have no funds for this purpose. There are ninety-three Stations in the Boston Postal District, and the Arlington Heights Branch was one of the very best, from a viewpoint of decoration. It was so nice, that I received a number of letters of commendation from residents of the area who were very much pleased with what the men at that office did in keeping with the Christmas Spirit.

It was very nice of you to write me as you have done, and I am sending your letter to the Superintendent at Arlington Heights, so that he and the employees of that office will know how nice you have been in taking time out to write to me.

Again, I wish to thank you most sincerely.

Very truly yours,
J. P. W. Finn
Postmaster

Parmenter School Science Meeting

The members of the Parmenter School Friends of Science Club heard a talk by Dr. L. Curtis Foye, school physician, January 30 about Nature.

Dr. Foye said that one need never be lonesome if he knows about nature. Walks in the woods become a joy when one can recognize a certain insect, a flower, a tree, and call it by its real name.

Regardless of where one goes, he will always be looking for insects, plants, etc. that are common to the particular place he is in.

He told us that he seashore is also a wonderful place to study nature.

I am certain that all of us in the Science Club will want to read books about nature so that we can better enjoy the world we live in.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Today's need for proofs rather than professions of divine power will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit."

Selections to be read from the Bible include the following promise of Christ Jesus (John 14:12): "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (233:1): "Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them. This is an element of progress, and progress is the law of God, whose law demands of us only what we can certainly fulfill."

To The Editor

To the Editor:
I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to those who advocated my candidacy and signed my nomination papers in good faith. Unfortunately, my decision to run for Selectman was made so late (Friday, January 27) that it left little time (Monday, January 27) to obtain the necessary signatures.

The weather also conspired to limit my activities in obtaining signatures with the result that although a sufficient total number were obtained I still lacked by a few the number of valid signatures necessary to qualify as a candidate.
